2/27/2013	[REDACTED] met with LKL	This weekend, [REDACTED] was visiting a friend who attends Portland State University, and learned that her friend's school's health insurance for students is trans-inclusive. [REDACTED] wants to pursue Western's insurance covering appropriate care for transgender people. It would cost her $24,000 out of pocket to get the surgeries she needs. Her friend's insurance will pay most and the friend will pay $4,000. [REDACTED] believes Western has an ethical responsibility to have inclusive insurance and that it is unfair to exclude some people from coverage. Laura will talk with Sue and LKL or Sue will call [REDACTED] by the end of next week. [REDACTED] will talk with Lisa Rosenberg and maybe also the Psychology faculty about it. She is a [REDACTED] major.

2/28/13	■■■■ email to LKL	■■■■ emailed saying she emailed Dr. Gibson in the Health Center, who informed ■■■■ that Western is most likely ending its student health insurance plan next year because there are few subscribers. ■■■■ said "it may still be a possibility to looking into GCS policy for employees on campus but to be frank the passion [has been] quelled a bit knowing that this won't help vulnerable future students."
		The EO Office will continue to follow up with the Student Health Center on this important issue with respect to potential coverage in the future.
